

Financial Communications Forum 2008 to Be Held April 15-16, 2008 at The Princeton Club of New York

Will Provide Best-Practice Information Regarding “Creative Strategies for Expert Execution”

Boston, MA (August 22, 2007) – Insight Forums, LLC today announced that the 2008 Financial Communications Forum will be held April 15-16, 2008 at The Princeton Club of New York. The event’s theme is “Creative Strategies for Expert Execution,” and practitioners, consultants, industry experts, and other experienced professionals are now being invited to submit proposals to speak.

“As the financial capital of the world, New York is the perfect place for a financial forum,” said Steve Weissman, Director of Insight Forums. “And located as it is in the heart of New York, The Princeton Club is the perfect place for ours!”

The Financial Communications Forum provides exclusive insights into the latest management best practices and technology innovations affecting the design, production, or distribution of documents that communicate financial information. Speaker, sponsor, and attendee information will soon be available online at www.insightforums.com/fcf2008.php.

ABOUT INSIGHT FORUMS

The Financial Communications Forum convenes annually to provide insights into management best practices and technology innovation for producing documents that communicate financial information. For additional information, please visit www.insightforums.com or call Susanne Bartz at 617.646.4100.